DREXEL INSTITUTE IS DEFEATED; SCORE 40-0

Newly Elected Captain Leads G. W. U. Team to Victory.

Mixing an open offensive with a baffling air attack, the Hatchettes completely outplayed Drexel Institute at Philadelphia Saturday, October 22. The final result was 40-0.

The Buff and Blue had the passing game in use again, as they successfully completed 10 out of 19 attempts. Forward heaves were indirectly responsible for three of the six touchdowns.

In order to save his veterans for the Georgetown game, Coach Quigley sent in substitutes during the second quarter, thus keeping the score down to 40 points. However, recently elected Captain Ballee Springston was allowed to remain in the game and proceeded to keep Drexel busy by making long passes, skirting the ends and gaining through the line at will.

DR. MUNROE ADDRESSES CHEMICAL SOCIETY

Dr. Charles E. Munroe, formerly chairman of the Council on National Defense, discussed the peace-time uses of explosives manufactured during the war before the Chemical Society October 19. Dr. Munroe is dean emeritus of the School of Graduate Studies and professor emeritus of chemistry at G. W. U.

"The Government had intended to take most of these explosives out to sea and dump them overboard," Dr. Munroe declared, "but this project was held up long enough for experiments to be performed. As a result of these investigations 26,000 pounds of T. N. T. have been used for blasting in road construction by the Government."

The president of the society, J. F. T. Berliner, announced that the Chemical Society would meet the first Wednesday of each month in the Medical Building at Thirteenth and H Streets Northwest.

The other officers of the society are N. H. Sanborn, vice president; Marie O'Dea, secretary; L. Oscar, treasurer; A. Hartman, Ralph Nagle and Raymond Hanne, executive committee.

STUDENTS ORGANIZE TO PURCHASE PORTRAIT

Likeness of Dean Wilbur to be Given to University.

Inspired by the loyal affection in which Dean William Allen Wilbur is held by all who have come under his influence, a group of the alumni and students of George Washington University has organized a movement to raise the necessary funds to purchase a portrait of the dean for the University.

A three-quarter portrait by Ossip Perelma, a Russian artist, is being considered, but should this prove unsatisfactory the committee will award the commission to a painter who may be relied upon to produce a picture worthy of his subject.

The chairman of the committee in charge of the fund, which will be known as the "Dean Wilbur Portrait fund," is Dr. Gertrude Richardson Brigham, an instructor in the history of art at this University and assistant to the dean in his rhetoric classes.

Plans for raising the fund are being formulated and will be announced later.

JUNIORS TO MEET.

Election of officers of the Junior Class, Columbian College, has been set for Thursday, November 3, at 8 o'clock in Lisner Hall. It was announced today by Frances DeGrange, secretary of the Sophomore Class of last year.

BUFF & BLUE ONCE WORN BY HILLTOPPERS

Taken Away by Hatchette Students in Fight Years Ago; Anticipate Repeating Event.

According to a rumor received from a source that should be authentic, Georgetown once wore the colors buff and blue. In the year that Lafayette was being feted by Georgetown, a body of students from both schools met and a battle royal ensued. In the melee George Washington captured the Georgetown colors, adopted them as their own and bear them yet. The Hilltoppers were forced to get new colors, and they chose blue and gray. Tomorrow another battle is to be fought, and the Hatchettes' eleven hopes to make Georgetown adopt the black and blue.

There has always been an intense rivalry between the Hilltoppers and the Hatchettes. In all branches of sport the two local institutions battle for supremacy. Last year the Blue and Gray had a little the better of the argument, winning two hard-fought basketball games and holding the Hatchettes to a tie on the tennis courts.

Tomorrow's football game will be the first time the two have met on the gridiron since 1916, when the Blue and Buff threw such a scare into the Georgetown supporters by scoring the first touchdown. The home boys have a string of defeats to wipe out, and the boys from Georgetown have a record to uphold, so a merry tussle is expected.

MASONS TO BANQUET.

Masons of the University will hold a "founders' day" banquet at the New Ebbitt Hotel November 4 to commemorate the one hundred and sixty-ninth anniversary of the raising of Gen. George Washington to the sublime degree of Master Mason.

HATCHETTES HAVE FIGHTING CHANCE

Quigley's Men Preparing to Give Hard Fight; Georgetown University Boasts Best Team.

Entering tomorrow's game with Georgetown against heavy odds, the George Washington gridiron machine is going to fight to a finish. The American League ball park will be the scene of this battle royal.

From the comparative scores it may be presumed that Georgetown is at least two or three touchdowns better than the home boys, but with football in its present highly developed state such a comparison means nothing. Georgetown last Saturday licked the "tar" out of the strong Holy Cross eleven, which early in the season held old Harvard to 3 points. This tends to prove that the Blue and Gray have one of the strongest teams in the country, but everyone knows that Holy Cross was overconfident and discounted the strength of the G. U. open attack.

The Hatchettes are outweighed 10 pounds to the man, but this tremendous handicap is offset by the Buff and Blue's speed and aerial attack. In Ptak, Shaw and Altrop the Hatchettes have a set of ends which it is hard to equal. All are hard tacklers and fast, and at pulling down the aerial heave Ptak is unparalleled.

The fighting lines of the two are about equal, Georgetown's husky guards being offset by the Hatchettes' (Continued on page three.)

GHOST APPEARS.

The Ghost will walk for the first time this year at the Georgetown game. It will be alive with sparkling humor and cartoons that depict the humorous side of college life.

Advance copies prove it is bigger and better than ever. The Ghost will contain 16 pages and will be dressed in an attractive two-colored cover.

LARGE CHEER SECTION TO BACK THE TEAM

Volume of Songs and Peppery Yells To Feature Game to Spur G. W. on to Glorious Victory.

"Reds" McCaslin predicts that if spirit and noise can win a football game Georgetown will be swamped tomorrow, for he hopes to have a cheering section of 500 or more leather-lunged youths, with fully equipped cheer and song leaders. "Pete" Ellis and "Pres" Haynes will assist the peppery cheer leader in his efforts to back the team from the grandstands.

Friday evening, the night before the game, the Interfraternity Association will hold a big smoker for the purpose of getting together all the Greeks in the school and forming the nucleus of the cheering section. President Neill says that every man in the association who can possibly crawl or be carried will be present. And through a cloud of smoke it is expected that the cheering of the frat men will rock the city. The affair is to be held at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house.

The yells were practiced during the day on the campus. Both Thursday and Friday noons were spent in exercising the vocal organs. Harry Sokolov was on hand to play his great march, "Buff and Blue," and "Reds" McCaslin also was among those present.

And so, with eleven towers of strength in the arena and with 2,000 students at their backs to urge them on, the Hatchettes fighting machine will either go down to noble defeat or to most glorious victory.

These yells will be used tomorrow.

W. U. C. TO HOLD STRAW RIDE.

A straw ride and Halloween party has been arranged by the Women's University Club for Saturday, October 29. The crowd will assemble at the clubrooms, 2027 G Street, at 8 o'clock.

SCHOOL ORGANIZATIONS MUST BE CHARTERED

Only Official Clubs Will Be Allowed Use of School Name.

In accordance with a decision of the Student Council, all organizations within the University must be granted a charter before they will be permitted to use the name of the George Washington University officially. This ruling does not apply to national fraternities and sororities, but applies to the various technical and social organizations and clubs local to the school.

Miss Elizabeth Earnest as chairman and Mr. Ralph Nagle have been appointed as a charter committee by the Student Council, and preparations are being made by them toward chartering all clubs that desire to continue during the present and coming years.

Club officers are urged to apply promptly for their charters. Before a charter will be granted to any club the charter committee must have received information relative to the purposes and aims of that club, the percentage of members who have subscribed to the student activity tax and other information that will enable the Student Council to determine the desirability of that organization. Clubs making application for charters will be supplied with a questionnaire on which to report their standing.

No unchartered club within the University is now recognized, nor can any club act officially as a part of this institution. Immediate action by club officers should be taken.

NOTED TRUSTEE DIES; WAS CIVIC LEADER

H. B. F. Macfarland Held Interests of District at Heart—Student at Columbian College.

Henry B. F. Macfarland, member of the Board of Trustees of the University and former chairman of the Board, former commissioner of the District, prominent newspaper correspondent, lawyer, and a leader in promoting civic betterments in the National Capital for a quarter of a century, died October 14 at his residence, 1208 Eighteenth Street Northwest. Private funeral services were held at the residence Monday afternoon, October 17, and a memorial service at the Church of the Covenant was held October 21.

Mr. Macfarland's connection with the University began while he was studying law in the office of a local attorney and attending lectures at Columbian College, now George Washington University. He became a Trustee in 1904 and was chairman of the Board for a time. He was a member of the committee on subscriptions and endowment and the Law School committee.

Born in Philadelphia February 11, 1861, Mr. Macfarland came to Washington with his parents in 1867 and was educated in Rittenhouse Academy. Being too young for admission to the bar on completion of his legal studies, although qualified, he entered the newspaper profession and his endeavors met with marked success. He was made chief of the Washington bureau of the Boston Herald in 1892 and continued in that position until 1900, when President McKinley appointed him District commissioner.

He was always a man much in the public eye and was identified with many organizations, among them the Y. M. C. A., Red Cross, Near East Relief, Washington National Monument Society, and National Municipal League.

THIRTY STUDENTS COMPETE FOR PRIZES

Contest to Run to November 5; Desired Results Expected.

Thirty students are competing for the six prizes offered by the Student Council to the individuals who obtain the most signatures to the activity tax.

The Student Council has extended the time for the contest to November 5 so that eight more days remain in which to secure additional signers. It is expected that the last few days of the contest will materially change the standing of all the competitors.

ARCHITECTS MEET.

New members of the Architects Club will be welcomed at a dance to be given in their honor by the club on November 2 at Sycamore Island Camps Club, President Charles Nutt announced last night. This will be the first of the club's social activities and will serve as a "get together" for the old and new members.

Defeat Georgetown

There have passed six years since we have battled on the grid-iron against Georgetown University. During this period the world war and the state of unsettled conditions caused our attendance to decrease, brought on financial difficulties and forbade us to enter any athletic activities whatsoever. We have been unfortunate in this regard, as other universities evaded the drawbacks and found means to place squads on the field, although of a lower caliber than in former years. When we enter the field Saturday we do it with a consciousness that we are fighting a formidable foe, a football team recognized as one of the best in the country. However, we have a squad equally as good and have defeated this fall teams as strong as any downed by our opponents. We must remember that while we enter our team, judged as to its ability only by its deportment this year, Georgetown is partially relying on her reputation. We must go into the fray feeling confident that we will win—but not too confident. Our opponents have become slightly egotistic through their decisive victories over weaker teams. The factors of the game are in our favor: We have everything to win and not much to lose. There will be more Washingtonian supporters for G. W. U. We will have a cheering section that will make more noise and give greater stimulus to our men. There is no doubt that the football clash of importance in coming years to this University and to this part of the country will be the George Washington-Georgetown game. It will assume as important a place in the football world as the Navy-Princeton, Yale-Navy, Virginia-North Carolina and Army-Navy games. It is our duty now to prepare for this, defeat this Georgetown squad to a finish and show them that if the spirit, material and ideals are fostered by a university it doesn't take reputation to put out creditable athletic teams.

Carry On

Fellow Classmates: I have found a true University spirit here at George Washington, a genuine interest on the part of the majority of us in the advancement and progress of our plans and policies and a sincere desire that our institution become the foremost of all the universities of the country. The proud name that we bear is ever an inspiration and encouragement toward greater efforts of endeavor.

This desire, this interest, this spirit is strong and persistent and is limited only by physical conditions. Fate has decreed that many of us should labor hard for the fruits of knowledge we hope to harvest. What we have to spare in time and energy we give, even to the extent of sacrifice, to the institution we love so dearly.

You have chosen the council to supervise and direct your activities. Its members have been conducting in your behalf a student activity tax campaign. They have offered certain cash prizes for those obtaining the greatest number of signers to the tax cards. This is no attempt to buy your interest. In fact, such a thing would be impossible; but the council recognizes the conditions under which many of us work, and by offering these prizes seek to make it easier for you to devote more of your time to this important task.

We have no reason to be discouraged. Approximately 1,000 persons have signed, just a few less than last year. There is still a field untouched of 2,500. Enter the contest and do your bit for George Washington. Register at the desk in the hall. The success of this campaign means the success of student activities of every class and kind.

Let us apply ourselves, then, to the task that is set before us as our appropriate object. Let us act from the settled conviction that the cause we uphold is a high one. Let our object be the advancement of the University, that it might come to be a splendid monument of the efforts of a united and faithful student body upon which the scholastic world may gaze in admiration for years yet unborn. Robert N. Anderson, President Student Council.

FREE SUBSCRIPTIONS TO BE GIVEN AWAY

Contestant Offers Inducement to New Signers in Student Tax Contest.

A free subscription to any of a list of magazines will be given to all those who sign up for student activities by November 1. This is the offer made by a representative of the Periodical Sales Co. in order to encourage student activities and boost the present campaign. You can have your choice of Scribner's, Popular Science, Cosmopolitan, Vogue, or any of the others sent to you free of charge if you leave your name at The Hatchet office or see John Gilliland before the contest closes.

SIXTY-FIVE ENROLL IN MEDICAL R. O. T. C.

Enrollment in the R. O. T. C. at the Medical School has reached a total of 65 and is rapidly increasing. More than 50 per cent of the first and second year students are now in the unit. It is already larger than the Georgetown medical unit which is the only other medical unit in Washington. Some of the pre-medical students also are attending lectures, and other are urged to turn out. The lectures are given once a week, and it will be easy for the "pre-meds" to avail themselves of this privilege.

The summer camp will be located at Carlisle, Pa. George Washington men will attend the camp along with students of other colleges in the eastern district.

CLASS TO AID HATCHET.

Arrangements have been made with Prof. Chace, instructor of the class in journalism, to have the members of the class cooperate with the staff of The Hatchet in covering the news of the University. Each week certain students of the class will be designated to cover special assignments and to assist the reporters of The Hatchet.

ELECT-BAILEE SPRINGSTON G. W. FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

Quarterback George B. Springston was elected to lead the G. W. eleven, the place being made vacant through the resignation of Harry Hawley. "Springer" has been acting as captain for the past two weeks, and has the backing of every man on the squad, as was evidenced by his unanimous election.

DABS OF DOPE

George Washington 40, Drexel 0. Write that on parchment, gentlemen, with gold leaf.

G. W. finished the game with only ten men, owing to the fact that there was no substitute sent in for Loehler, who had been roughly used.

However, a losing team always sees about 16 of their opponents on the field, so the absence of one didn't make much difference.

Coach Quigley gave a rest to most of his veterans after the first quarter. A notable exception was Capt. Springston, who romped through the whole game without apparent effort.

Shaw, Hatchette right end, was back again in the Drexel game after being among the missing for three weeks.

Mr. John Loehler is one of those versatile players. Back in his high school days he starred at center for Tech High; last year he played end and fullback. This year he started at fullback and is now playing tackle.

The Hatchettes have developed a bewildering aerial attack which has spelled touchdowns. Out of 65 such attempts 32 have been completed. Some record, we say.

Mr. Exendine, Georgetown's football mentor, has pronounced our own "Josh" Lieurione to be one of the best defensive fullbacks in the country.

HATCHETTES HAVE FIGHTING CHANCE

(Continued from page one.) strong tackles. In Connolly, Loehler, Mulligan and Jawish G. W. U. has a line which will be hard to dent. Banville, Wheeler and Allen are reserve linemen, who are of high caliber.

Perhaps one of the most important positions on the team is the center, the pivot of all plays. The Buff and Blue is well fortified there, having "Dinty" Hughes, whose experience and ability give him a decided edge over the Hilltop center.

The brunt of the ground gaining for the home boys will be in the hands of Springston, Licarione, Manson, Crouch, Scofield and Owens. "Bail" Springston has few equals at skirting the ends and heaving the forward, and "Josh" Licarione, according to Georgetown's own coach, is one of the best defensive fullbacks in the country, and he hits the line like a battering ram. Exendine has three fine backs in Kenyon, McQuade and Flavin, but the Hatchettes hope to stop the plunges of these men.

And even though the Buff and Blue do not bring back the football tomorrow, Georgetown is going to leave the field with the knowledge they have met one of the old style, hard fighting, fast, low charging football machines.

RAILWAY QUESTION TO BE DEBATED OCT. 28

Columbian Debating Society will hold its first and one of its most important debates of the year on Friday, October 28, at 8 p. m. The subject of this debate is of paramount importance to every member of the society. Every American should have his view of the present railway situation, and that view should be founded on the best facts available. The names of the speakers below assure us these very facts will be presented tonight.

"Resolved: That Congress should enact a law prohibiting railway strikes and requiring compulsory arbitration of disputes between railway employers and employees in the United States." Affirmative, Sherman, Cox, Osnes; negative, Wright, Reese, DeBrodes.

3,696 ENROLLMENT OF G. W. U. OCTOBER 15TH

The total enrollment of George Washington University to October 15 is 3,696, as compared with 4,039, the total registration for 1920-21.

Columbian College leads with 1,716 students, 252 less than the registration for last year. The Law School is second with an enrollment of 853, as compared with 898 the previous year.

The Medical School and the College of Pharmacy have already exceeded last year's enrollment. The School of Graduate Studies is only one behind its last year's record of 229, with 228, and Teachers College drops behind from 307 to 272.

REGULATIONS TO GOVERN POSTING OF NOTICES

Regulations governing the use of the students' bulletin board on the east wall at the foot of the stairs, 2023 G Street, have been prescribed by Miss Rose, Registrar. This board is for the posting of such notices as may be of interest to the student body. Rooms for rent may be advertised upon this board, although they should be listed with the Treasurer of the University.

On the two boards at the front of the hall will be found all official notices, such as class and room schedules, examination dates, and other official information relating to University work. One board is reserved for general notices, on which are posted schedules of civil service examinations, positions and opportunities to earn money while attending school.

SEEK FACTS CONCERNING ENDOWMENT DRIVES

Striving to establish an endowment fund for George Washington University, Dean Hodgkins has corresponded with the managers of successful campaigns for different colleges throughout the country. From three to six months will be required to work out the plans for an endowment campaign. Nothing definite has been decided but one proposal now under consideration is to assess the alumni according to their financial status.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR GIRLS' TENNIS TEAM

While nothing has been decided in regard to tennis for 1921-22, circumstances are favorable for a winning team. Katharine Symmonds and Marion Holliday, respectively manager and assistant manager last year, are in school, and the probability is the Student Council will name one of them manager for this year. The 1921 tennis team, consisting of Symmonds, Earnest, Robison, and Brewer, is present in its entirety and ready for action when a date is set for practice to begin.

INTERFRATERNITY BOARD TO WAGE BIG CONTESTS

Interfraternity athletics are now under way, and a big season is anticipated. Bowling is first on the schedule. The bowling schedule has been arranged and will be announced at a later date.

Sigma Nu fraternity won the bowling cup last year and has great expectations for the coming year. The other fraternities have some good teams picked out, and a more lively contest than last year is expected. The champions will receive a reward which they well deserve and which is very highly coveted.

From all that can be gathered, Interfraternity basketball will also play its part. Last year it was a great success. The silver loving cup was won by Theta Delta Chi, coming through the series without losing a game. Enthusiasm was far from lacking in the basketball games played last year and an equally successful year is promised.

ENGINEERS HOLD MEETING.

Over 75 men attended the first meeting of the Engineering Society Monday evening, October 24, at the Sigma Phi Epsilon House. Mr. Arthur Lanigan, president of the society, declared the purpose of the organization was to give the members an opportunity to hear engineering specialists.

Several members of the faculty spoke, including Dean Hodgkins, Prof. Platt, and Mr. Cruikshanks, of the mechanical engineering department.

Mr. Richard D. Campbell, a member of the society, discussed Sigma Tau, the honorary engineering fraternity which has been installed at G. W. and pointed out the advantages of membership.

SIGMA CHI.
 Election chapter of Sigma Chi was held to all alumni in the city last Tuesday evening at an alumni smoker, when initiation ceremonies were held and initiation conferred upon Dallas B. Hayes, of Missouri, and Felix W. Altrop, of Virginia. Immediately after the ceremonies refreshments were had along with plenty of smokes. Professional entertainment had been secured for the evening, and a few of the brothers were provided with front-row seats—and plenty of scenery. Several congressional members of the fraternity were among the 75 guests present.

PHI ALPHA.
 Plans are now under way for a Halloween dance to be given by the chapter.
 Harry Sokolov, Law '21, has been practicing up the men on "Buff and Blue" and leading them in practice on some of his yells.

 The chapter will hold its Halloween dance at the Columbia Country Club on Monday night, October 31.
 The chapter held an informal dance at the house September 16.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA.
 Lambda chapter was greatly honored by a visit from Walter Conley, national president of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity, on Sunday, October 23, 1921.

THETA DELTA CHI.
 Chi Deuteron charge is planning a Halloween dance on October 31 to commemorate the seventy-fifth anniversary of the foundation of the fraternity. The charge house is being redecorated for the occasion.

WANDERING GREEKS.
 Twenty different fraternities were represented at a smoker of the Wandering Greeks, held last Saturday evening, for those having no chapter houses at G. W. U. Prof. Clephane, Prof. Edgerton and Prof. Updegraff were the principal speakers. A. H. Paul discussed its purpose and gave a brief history of the organization.

STUDENT SLAVE SAYS:*A. & S. FACULTY DOWNS MANAGERIAL TEAM

Hodgkins, Wilbur, Hill Stars; Quigley and Morse Play Best for Losers.
 Playing consistent football, the team outplayed, outpassed, outplunged and outran the eleven representing the managers and coaches association. The game, which was played in the Rabbit Hole at 2 a. m. of the morning of October 27th, was full of thrills, the final score being 14 to 7.
 Fullback Wilbur received the punt and with a mighty dash rushed the ball to the middle of the field. From there Quarterback Hodgkins passed the ball to Croissant, who ran for 5 yards, when he was rudely dumped by the opposing fullback, "Bill" Quigley. Rushes by Ruediger and Swisher at this point failed to gain the required distance, giving the ball to the other side.
 By steady marching the managerial team threatened the faculty goal and might have scored, had not Bryan fumbled, said fumble being recovered by the stalwart guard, Charlie Hill. "Bill" Wilbur then booted the ball for 60 yards out of danger. Here the first quarter ended.
 Nothing spectacular occurred in the second period, neither team being able to penetrate the other's defense.
 Morse's long run when he returned the punt placed the managerial team in position to score. A forward heave from Borden to Waldo netted 35 yards. Bryan and Morse each gained a yard or two on their rushes, and then "Bill" Quigley punched the ball over. Zimmerman kicked goal.
 Faculty elected to receive and Reu-diger returned the ball to the 35-yard line. On the next play "Shorty" Prozman got in a discussion with Bryan and Referee Hankin put him out of the game for swearing in French. By a process of trig. and algebra he penalized the team 1323xy millimeters for being so rude. Not deterred by the enormous penalty, the faculty pulled off an end run; Swisher, carrying the ball, swept on down the field like the mighty onrushing waves of a gigantic wall of water. The combined energies of Noble, Owens, Johnson, Borden and Quigley were necessary to stop him. Hodgkins scored the touchdown on an off tackle play. Doyle kicked the goal, ending the third quarter, a tie.

In the final round the managers presented a stone-wall defense when their goal was threatened. Only a minute more of play remained when the faculty pulled a crisscross forward pass from Swisher to Henning to Wilbur to Croissant, who lacked a yard and 2½ inches of scoring by diving right through the line. Kern kicked the goal. Line-up and summary:

R. W. GRIGGS, EXPLORER, NEW BOTANY PROFESSOR

Instrumental in Establishing New National Park.

George Washington University is fortunate in having a distinguished explorer at the head of its botany department. A new national park, said to excel the grandeur of the Grand Canyon, has been established by presidential proclamation as a result of his efforts.

Prof. Robert W. Griggs, who is credited with this discovery, was formerly professor of botany in Ohio State University. He came to Washington to record his explorations for the National Geographic Society.

Th new national park, called the Katmai National Monument, is situated at the head of the Aleutian Peninsula in the southern part of Alaska and promises to become a popular resort for tourists. It is also known as the "Valley of the 10,000 Smokes."

In 1912 there was an eruption of Mount Katmai which was heard 600 miles away and darkened the skies a thousand miles around. Volcanic ashes a foot deep were deposited in the village of Kodiak, a hundred miles distant. It is to be classed as one of the biggest volcanic eruptions ever known, much larger even than that of Mount Vesuvius, which destroyed Pompeii; but fortunately the vicinity of Mount Katmai is uninhabited, for only one man witnessed the three days' explosion. Where there was once a mountain peak 7,000 feet high, there is now a lake of unsounded depth. Five cubic miles of ash and pumice were hurled in the air and scattered over the territory.

ications, The Ghost and The Cherry Tree, have been invited. Eugene Thomas, Mary Brown and Lois McDaris have been appointed as a committee in charge of the dance.
